In response to a further search, new references have been found that raise new obviousness type of double patenting issues.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 44-45 and 61-62 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

The claims are vague and indefinite what structure facilitates the claimed "... a part of their surface can be displaced freely relative ...". Also, it is not clear what is intended by "displaced freely" (e.g. does this mean over each other or being removed from the strip ?). Finally, it is not clear what type of structure is intended by the claimed "overlay".

Double Patenting

The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. A nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting rejection is appropriate where the conflicting claims are not identical, but at least one examined application claim is not patentably distinct from the reference claim(s) because the examined application claim is either anticipated by, or would have been obvious over, the reference claim(s). See, e.g., In re Berg, 140 F.3d 1428, 46 USPQ2d 1226 (Fed. Cir. 1998); In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

Art Unit: 1743

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) or 1.321(d) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent either is shown to be commonly owned with this application, or claims an invention made as a result of activities undertaken within the scope of a joint research agreement.

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

Claims 44-45 and 61-62 are rejected on the ground of nonstatutory obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1-13 and 1-5 of U.S. Patent No. 6,455,001 and 6,537,496 respectively. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because both of the patents claim a test strip having at least one detection area and a layer coated with a compound of the generic formula that includes the claimed N-oleoyl-sarcosinate (e.g. see the 001' patent column 4 lines 42+ that teach N-oleoyl-sarcosinate as being represented by formula I or II).

Response to Arguments

Applicant's arguments filed 12/26/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant states the instant amendments obviate the 35 USC 112 second paragraph issues. The Office is still confused what structure facilitated the claimed free movement.
